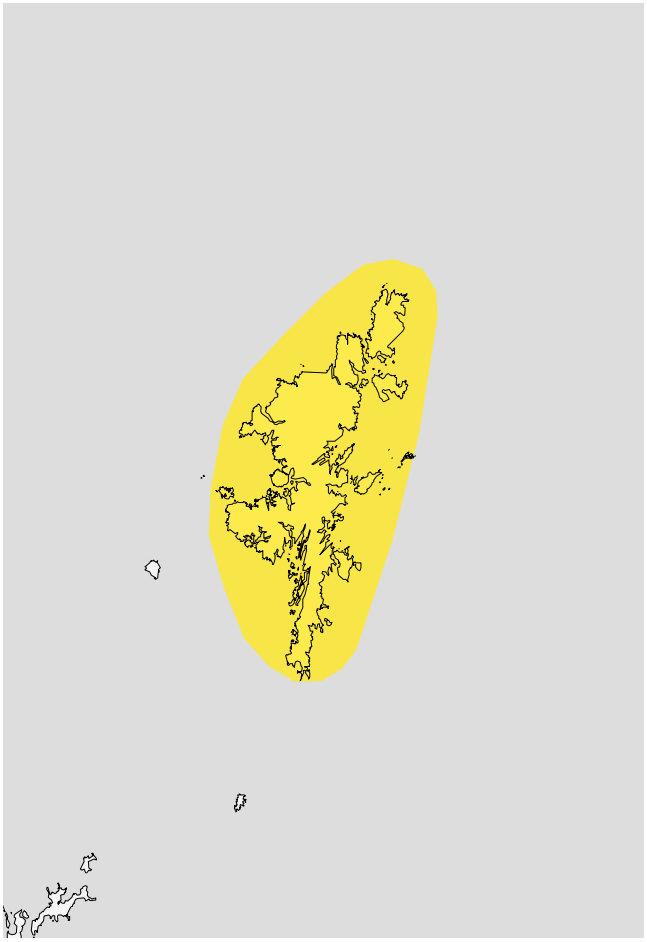
Yellow warning
Snow & Ice

Between
00:00 Mon 12 Dec 2022 and
12:00 Tue 13 Dec 2022



Wintry showers are likely to lead to difficult travel conditions.

What to expect

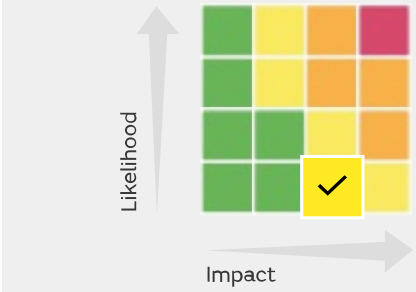
- There is a chance of travel delays on roads with some stranded vehicles and passengers, along with delayed or cancelled air travel
- There is a slight chance that some communities could become cut off
- There is a small chance that power cuts will occur and other services, such as mobile phone coverage, may be affected
- A small chance of injuries from slips and falls on icy surfaces
- A small chance that untreated pavements and cycle paths become impassable

Further details

There is the potential for frequent wintry showers to affect Shetland through this period. Snow accumulations of 2-5 cm could develop quite widely, with as much as 10-20 cm in some locations, especially on high ground.

Reason for update

Updated to bring start time forward, splitting Shetland out from larger warning covering mainland Scotland, reflecting higher totals expected across this area.



Very low likelihood of medium impacts
